HAS THE FINAL COUNTDOWN STARTED?

What does the future hold for our world and where are we going?

There is a disturbing increase in the number of prophetic warnings about the future of our planet. Could it be that just because we are edging towards the end of the 20th century, it could be a time for change? But then we would have to accept that destiny is ruled by the Gregorian calendar. The Tibetan spiritual leader the Dalai Llama, recently spoke of the approaching catastrophic changes that those on Earth were going to face. It would be a time of trial, but beyond it was a new 'golden age'.

Are we then, all heading for some kind of disaster? An American TV programme recently interviewed several group sect leaders who were convinced that there will be a rapid melting of the polar ice caps and the oceans will rise and flood many regions of the world. One of the leaders mentioned that his particular 'flock' had plans to move to a pacific island in preparation of the coming ordeal. (I would have thought that a spot on top of the Rockies' might have been a better choice).

In Professor John E.Mack's book "Abduction: Human Encounters With Aliens" (Simon & Schuster £16.99), there are several instances of abductees' being warned of what may be in store for us in the future. (P.104) :- Major changes in the world are coming. The aliens will only come "when it's safer." But that will not occur until there are "less and less" of us as we die off from disease, especially the more communicable forms of AIDS that will reach plague proportions....(P308) "We're heading towards some cataclysm," he said, "and they want to help us."....(P320) We talked more of his shock at the idea of being an "alien father," although he recognised that the hybrid children needed "a mother and a father,...With the advent of the destruction of the earth as we know it," these will be the children that will "repopulate" the planet.

My philosophy is to enjoy each day as it comes, as you never know what is around the next corner....I believe it was Prof. John E. Mack who said "Don't worry about the aliens, you have more to fear from your fellow man!"

UFO'S OVER ARBOR LOW, DERBYSHIRE

"Arbor Low" is an ancient stone circle and known locally as the Stonehenge of Derbyshire. It is a late Neolithic ritual 'henge' monument, made up of some 60 stones formed in a circle 80 metres in diameter. The monument is believed to date back to 2,000BC and the stones are believed to have been originally set up by the 'Beaker People', who were known to have worshipped a "Sky God". During recent years a number of strange glowing lights have been reported in the area. Could the circle be a focus of "earth energy" once recognised by pre-historic man and a source of interest for UFO's?

On the 23rd of August 1993 at 1.15am, a couple were driving past the Arbor Low prehistoric monument on their way home from holiday. The two witnesses, (who are both University Lecturers) saw what they at first took to be a bright moon shining behind the clouds. Then they realised that it was not the moon, but a shimmering object with numerous lights around it. Suddenly a bright beam of light shone down from the craft onto the ground. The couple watched apprehensively as the beam of light, which had at first been shining on a nearby field, started to move towards them. They sat in their car terrified as the light moved towards them, then it passed slowly overhead and disappeared into the night. They admitted later that they had both been very scared during the incident.

More recently on the 27th of October 1994 at 7.20pm, a family group consisting of a two men and their wives, were driving in a car on their way to a birthday party in a nearby town. As they approached the Arbor Low stone circle, the driver of the car glanced across in the direction of the stone circle. There hovering directly above it, was a brilliant glowing light. The driver brought the car to a halt and the occupants lowered the car windows in order to have a clearer view. "It was in the shape of a cereal bowl", said one of the witnesses. "From where we were, it was about 5" long by 1½" thick and it was glowing a bright orange." "It was so bright we couldn't make out the shape, but it was directly above the circle." "Then all of a sudden it shot off at terrific speed, in a split second." "I said let's go quick" and we quickly drove away."

"ANOTHER 'TRIANGLE' REPORT
(Reprinted from the EMUFORA magazine)

GOLDEN OLDIES

John and Diane Stoddard, rented a cottage on Bonsall Moor, Derbyshire, over the Christmas period in 1986. The cottage overlooks a valley, with scenic views for miles around. Behind the cottage, the land is flat, with hills in the distance, and several other cottages scattered around the area.

On December 31st, 1986, John and Diane were loading up their car, as they had to vacate the cottage by 10 am. It was still dark, with many stars in the sky, on the horizon the sky gave a hint of blue before sunrise. John had the outside light on, as he loaded up his car. At 7.19 am, he noticed a white star, zig-zagging on the horizon. He called his wife, and they both watched the bright light. Suddenly the object did a 90 degree turn and headed towards them. It covered several miles in only a couple of seconds. John and Diane didn't have time to react, as the object approached. It slowed down very quickly and hovered above them.

At the side of the cottage stands a tree. John estimated a gap of twenty foot between the craft and the top of the tree. He stated that he could have hit the craft with a stone - it was that close. The craft was at that time, still a ball of light, although John thought he could see three fins on the back of it, he stated that this could have been an illusion caused by the winter breeze making his eyes water as he stared at the light.

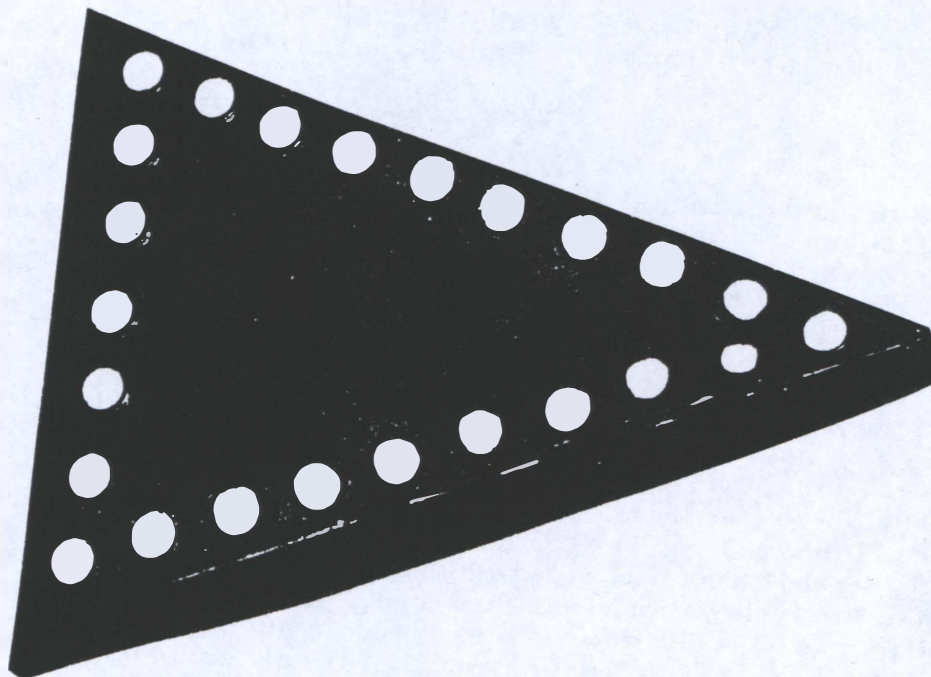

After a few minutes, the object's source of light blacked out, leaving a dark disc, still hovering above them. Suddenly, and without a sound, the object split down the centre and began to change shape. When it had finished, it was an isosceles triangle shape. It was still black, and suddenly, beads of lights came on all around the edge of the craft, they were white but did not dazzle. After a couple of minutes the craft started moving slowly over the cottage.

Diane, by this time was frightened, so she ran back into the cottage. John was fascinated, and didn't want it to leave. He followed it down to the end of the lane. The craft was travelling at walking pace. After approximately 100 metres, the craft suddenly accelerated and sped away, vanishing in seconds, still without making any sound.

Diane had a stiff neck for three weeks after the sighting, and John had a bad neck for nine months.

Even though their sighting had happened several years ago, John was still excited when he reported this event to EMUFORA on 1st October 1990. Neither of the Stoddards believed in UFOs before their sighting. But they now rent the same cottage every year, in the hope of seeing another. John commented that this was the best thing that had ever happened to him.

Years later, John made a model of the craft which he and his wife had seen on Bonsall Moore.

UFO OVER STANLEY COMMON

A UFO was sighted over Stanley Common on Saturday 8th October as reported by Don Hammersley who was out walking his dog when he saw the strange object.

It was fast moving, egg shaped, pointed from behind and yellow in colour and was seen traveling in a Westerly direction over Stanley Common at a colossal velocity. It seemed to appear from behind two ash trees and traveled straight and level for approximately three seconds before it blinked out.

The witness found it was difficult to judge the distance and said it could be anything from 500 yards up to 5,000 miles but says anything further than one and a half miles away and it's speed would be supersonic.

There was no noise, no sparks as from a meteor or space debris and the moon had already set being only two days old.

THE EVENING SKY

November 1994

When observing the evening sky it is best to choose a location away from bright artificial light and preferably when there is no Moon. The darker the sky the more heavenly bodies you will see. It is also important to be comfortable. Do not stand and strain your neck looking up at the sky. Sit in a deck chair or, as I do, lie on a sunbed. To make the experience pleasurable you must be comfortable, so please wrap up warm. Light pollution is a real problem when observing the heavens from an urban setting.

Always take the opportunity to look up at the sky and try to imagine the enormity of the cosmos. It can often put your problems in perspective and give you a real feeling of well being. Remember, the light you see coming from all those little twinkling stars has been travelling through the universe for millions of years, just to reach your eyes.

If you look directly above your head and slightly to the north you will see a great star constellation in the shape of a 'W'. This is the star constellation Cassiopeia. Look up from Cassiopeia, almost directly vertical and if the sky is dark enough you will see the great galaxy in Andromeda at some 2.2 million light years distance. Andromeda is the most distant object detectable to the unaided eye and is visible this month.

Saturn, still visible, is moving among the watery stars of Aquarius in the southern sky soon after night-fall. Mars is best seen just before the first light of dawn. On the morning of the 25th the red planet Mars, the Moon and the star Regulus form a 'magic triangle'. Regulus, a blue-white star contrasts dramatically with Mars, an orange world.

In 1978 a Moon named Charon was discovered orbiting the remote planet Pluto. Pluto is only 1400 miles in diameter, (half the size of the Earth's Moon) and Charon is 700 miles in diameter. Currently a controversy rages among astronomers, many believing that Pluto should be demoted from planetary status and classified as an asteroid. Since Charon's discovery, many other rocky bodies have been detected beyond the orbit of Pluto in a region of space known as the Kuiper-belt. A spacecraft 'the-Pluto-fast-fly-by-mission' will leave Earth before 2000, destined for Pluto.

Many people often ask: what is the point of spending millions of pounds on space research? Confucius he say: if you have two pennies you should spend one penny on flour and one penny on a flower. One penny to feed the body and the other penny to nourish the mind and fire the spirit.

Enjoy Your Evening Sky!

THE ROBOTS REBELLION LECTURE TOUR
DAVID ICKE AT THE WHEREHOUSE, DERBY
OCTOBER 12TH 1994

Over one hundred people were packed into the Wherehouse, Derby to listen to David Icke, ex T.V. presenter and leading spokesman of the Green Party., who appeared as a smart and highly articulate speaker who knows exactly what he wants to put across to his audience.

I will try to give you a flavour of his talk which lasted for two and a half hours and try and condense it to this review.

He started off by trying to show how easy it is to manipulate the general public, for instance he says take exams. Who sets the questions in exams? The status quo does. Who decides what the answers are going to be if we are going to pass? The status quo does, and if you don't tell the status quo what it wants to hear you don't progress within it, so conform.

A few centuries ago if a geography student had said that the world was round he would have failed. Even today we are passing exams often by telling the system what it wants to hear yes, about things that have no connections with reality whatever.

We have celibate priests in the Roman Catholic Church because of what a Pope decided in 1,074 but no one has challenged the status quo so each generation gets the treatment and thousands of years later we have something which someone thousands of years ago decided.

We are constantly having our behavior and our thoughts and lives controlled by the lack of the word WHY? and the courage to stand up for something different. The world is being string-pulled by a remarkably small group of people who have the knowledge of how to manipulate the human mind and how to engineer events and send out messages through the media and the education system that not only decides us not to challenge what they want but to actually demand it. We have to start thinking for ourselves and not allowing someone else, be it a religion, a political party, guru, or whatever to impose their beliefs on us.

David then proceeded to tell us where he was coming from because many people have got the impression that he has discovered religion and that he is Jesus Christ reincarnated 'The Messiah' that has come to save the world. In fact if anyone has read his books he says they will see that far from discovering religion he thinks it has been used as one of the greatest forms of mind control humanity has ever invented.

We are says David as part of this manipulation, basically projected from early on in our lives at school with two basic explanations of who we are and what we are doing here. Take one or the other, one seems to be that there is some sort of God figure out there somewhere who is saying we have one life on this planet and it is up to him to decide whether we go to heaven or hell forever. Which is great, if you are a manipulator who can say "I know what God wants you to do to get to heaven so just listen to me and everything will be fine.” The alternative to this is that we are just a cosmic accident of evolution with no past and no future so it is just a waste of time really because as the saying goes ‘Life’s a bitch and then you die’.

There is an alternative which challenges both these ideas and which is condemned and ridiculed by reflex action. This idea is kept out of the public arena but more and more enlightened people are opening up to this way of thinking is that everything in creation is the same energy but in different states of being. One kind of example of this is water, clouds and ice which are the same substance but in different states of being.

Everything says David is the same energy in different states of being therefore energy and consciousness are the same thing, suddenly creation becomes a gigantic mind of which we are all aspects, so when we talk of the ‘Son of God’ we are talking about aspects of the whole. I see us like droplets of water in this sea of consciousness, we are individual to a certain extent but altogether the droplets make a whole.

So this gigantic mind if you want to put the name God to it is not some person with a beard sitting on a throne in the sky somewhere, we are part of that force. Creation is broken up into frequencies or wavelengths all sharing the same space, something like radio waves which occupy the same space but the one that you hear is the one which you are tuned into at that time. Move the dial and you may tune into another frequency and so on.

When we die the conscious leaves this reality and moves into another one, the body is only a vehicle allowing us to experience this level of reality rather like a space suit allows astronauts to experience the reality of the moon. As more and more people are being revived from clinical death due to better medical knowledge, more and more people are telling of ‘near death experiences’ as their consciousness leaves the body to carry on in a different reality but is then brought back into the physical body to carry on in this life .

That the natural state of being is the consciousness and not the body, what has happened since those times when this knowledge was known is that rigid religions used for control and power have suppressed the knowledge of who and what we are doing here and the nature of life. It is a knowledge and understanding which is only now beginning to re-emerge. What happens is that billions in this world continue to fear death and to be frightened of some eternal damnation, when all that happens is that we are re-born onto another frequency to continue our evolution.

Why is this knowledge being suppressed , who is behind it and why? Then I began says David to ask some other questions, I have never met anyone in my life who wanted a war yet the world is full of conflicts and wars, so I thought this is a contradiction. What is going on, who is behind these wars or what and why?

There is a force that does not have humanities best interests at heart to say the very least, secrecy is being used to manipulate and keep from the people knowledge that they have every right to know. within this knowledge is how to create technology which harnesses the Earth’s natural energy field and turns it into usable warmth and power so we don’t have to rape the Earth and turn fossil fuel into pollution. It is funny when you look into this, how many scientists who have sussed how to do this, have either ended up in the cemetery or behind bars, because to control you need dependency, anything which creates dependency creates control. So, if this system and this manipulation makes us dependent in playing it's game for the basics of life, like food, shelter, clothing, warmth and power then it's got us where it wants us.

It's a conspiracy which is being called by a secret name which is now very public, that name is 'The New World Order'. The very words as spoken by George Bush after the blatantly engineered Gulf War of 1991 and is constantly being used to describe the future of global politics and economics. Today the manipulation going on to bring about this New World Order pervades every area of our lives. What New World Order means in simple terms is the creation of a one world government to which all nations would be subordinate, one world central bank, one world currency which wouldn't actually be physical money but credit cards and such like, one world army and a micro-chipped population. Of course the more you centralize power the fewer hands can control the whole. Anyone who has challenged this centralization has been told one of two things either, it's progress, you can't stop progress, or the events in the world make it absolutely inevitable that we should centralize, we have no choice.

The plan is to get us to see the different steps towards centralization as a good idea, to quote one of it's secret documents which came to light a few years ago "Create problems then offer the solutions" and the solutions just happen to be something which takes us further on in the direction required. This is being done in many areas of our lives and when you watch the news and read the newspapers from the perspective of 'create the problem offer the solution' you start to see the news and what the politicians say in a very different light.

The New World Order is being coordinated through the global network of secret societies and at the top of this pyramid of Secret Societies is another group of people the researchers call the 'Illuminati'. Now at that level all these secret societies become the same organization string-pulled by the same 'elite' and within that organisation are significant people in politics and more importantly, the people who advise the politicians, the people in the military and the media etc., and this whole global pyramid of secret societies is being used to bring this whole thing about by stealth.

David gives many examples of how events are engineered and how the New World Order will be brought about.

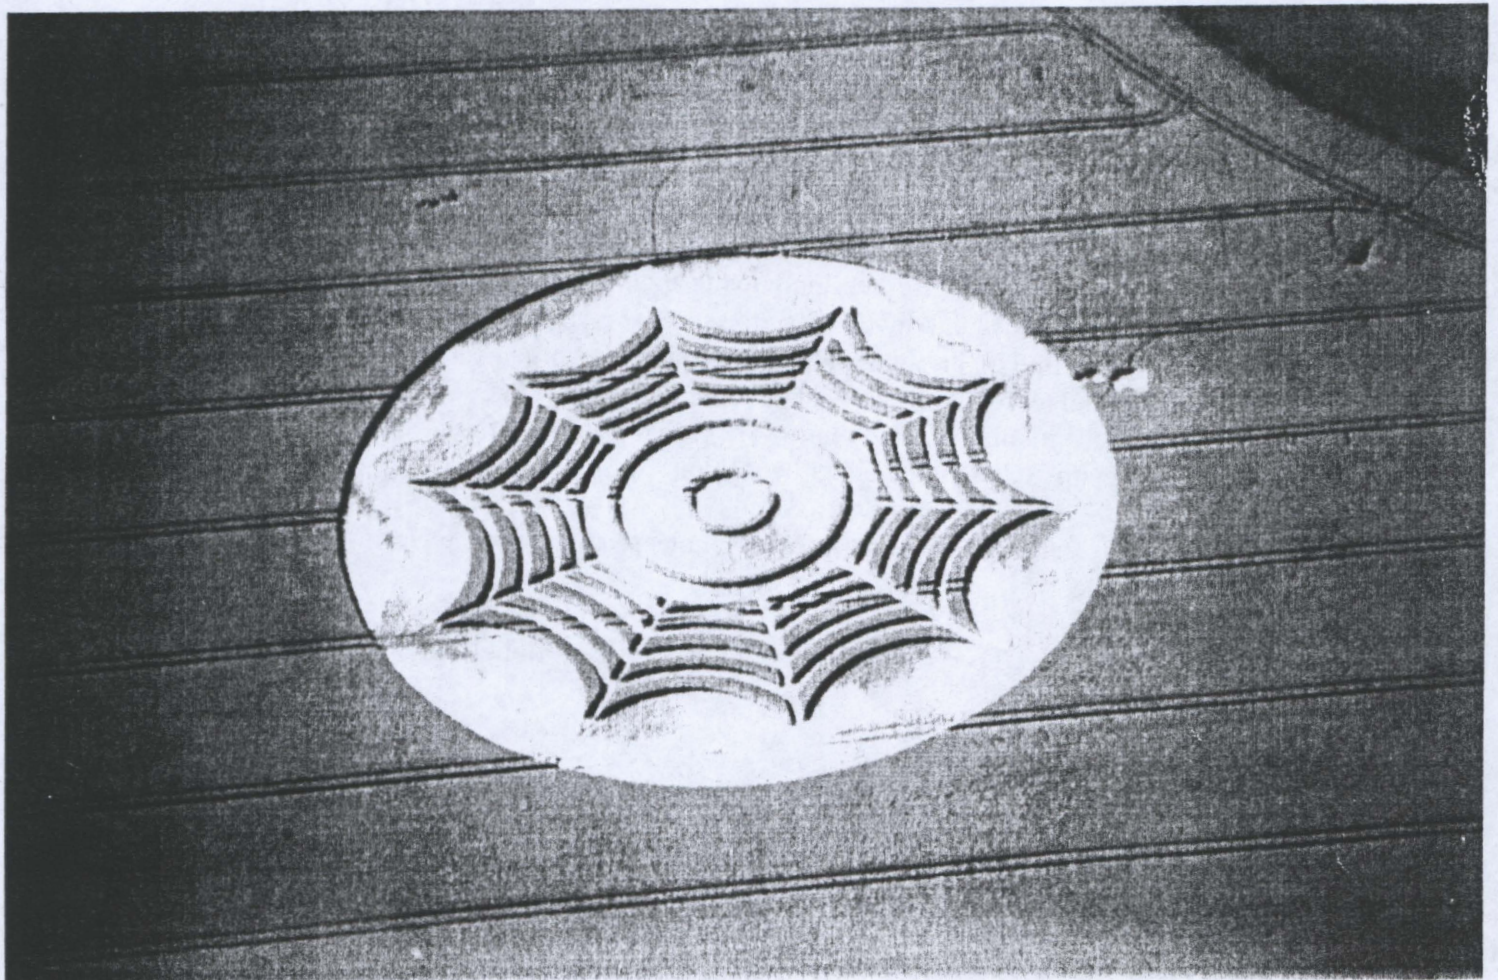

If you wish to know more I recommend you read 'The Robots Rebellion' by David Icke published by Gateway Books.

TALE ENDERS

UFO REPORTS have flooded into the PRA recently and it is hoped to include a number of them in the next issue. These include a fast moving 'cloud' over Derby on the night of November 5th, a double bright light over Long Eaton (Notts.) on the night of the 4th of October and a 'Flying Triangle' over Fareham, Hants. on the night of 12th September this year. Thanks to all contributors and apologies for not including all your reports.

ILKESTON ASTRONOMICAL SOCIETY had their horizons widened, when Omar Fowler gave them a talk on UFO's (8th November). The meeting at the Ilkeston Museum Hall was packed out and the Secretary of the IDAS commented that he wished he had seen as many people at their recent AGM! The audio/visual presentation was followed by a lively 'question time' and this produced three interesting local UFO reports, including another sighting over the Rolls-Royce test bed centre near Derby.

BOB DEAN was recently telephoned by the PRA at his home in the USA to clarify his rank in the United States Army during his period at SHAPE (Supreme H.Q. Allied Powers Europe) in the 50's. 'Quest International' recently introduced him as 'Colonel', but Bob confirmed that at the time he served with SHAPE, he was a Master Sergeant.

INTERNATIONAL MAGAZINES "Mas Alla" (Spain) and "Super Mystery MU Magazine" (Japan) both featured your Editor Omar Fowler in their September issues.

TERRY WALTERS claims to be in contact with aliens and to possess healing powers. (His wife confirms this). Terry, who lives near Wokingham, Berkshire, stated over a year ago that he was most concerned about the deep mining activity at Yakutsk, northern Siberia. He claimed that the aliens had warned him of a major earth fault in that region and the mining was in danger of causing a major earthquake. Recent press reports (Daily Mail Nov. 10th 94) refer to a volcanic eruption in the far east of Siberia being responsible for freak weather resulting in many recent disasters throughout the world.....

NEXT MEETING

TUESDAY 29th NOVEMBER (8pm) AT THE STANLEY CLUB

TONY JAMES (EMUFORA)

WILL GIVE AN AUDIO VISUAL LECTURE ON "AREA 51"
(which he visited during his recent trip to the USA)

Non-members welcome: entrance £1

The Stanley Club is next to the Stanley Common sports ground
(A.609) near Ilkeston, Derbyshire.
